ENROLLMENT GOOD

PAID TUITIONS AT THE NORMAL AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

THE BEST FALL TERM

Indications Are This Will Be the Largest Fall Term—City Schools Start Off Good.

The enrollment of the Normal or the paid tuitions up to 3 o'clock this afternoon was 215, reported Treasurer E. E. Williams at the Real Estate bank. At 11:30 o'clock this morning 190 had paid tuition at that place.

The enrollment at the close of the first day this year is twenty better than it was at the close of the first day a year ago. At the close of the second day last year, it was 155. The attendance last year was 278.

The Normal classes all met today for regular work and all of the teachers and those in the administration office are busily at work with the opening of the institution. The term promises to be the largest fall term held by the school.

The City Schools.

The city schools opening Monday started off with a good enrollment and regular work was taken up. The class program for the high school has been arranged and class work in the school has started. A few more enrolled in the high school on Tuesday.

There is one vacancy in the faculty of the high school. Miss Ruth Russell of Chicago, Ill., wired Tuesday from Guinn, Mich., that since her salary was more with the Guinn school than in Maryville, that she would not accept the position here. Miss Russell was elected by the board last Saturday and word to that effect was sent to her at once.

The school board sent word to Miss Helen Wright of Charleston, Ill., if she would accept the position as science teacher of the high school. The telegram was sent at noon. Miss Wright is a graduate of the Chicago university and also the Eastern Illinois state normal. It is thought probably that she will accept. The vacancy in the high school occurred only a few days ago, when Miss Winifred Ashby resigned the position to teach in Chicago.

GOOD SUPPLY ON HAND.

Plenty of Water in Reservoir, and Indications Are That River is Raising Some.

Manager Lou Denny reported Tuesday that there is plenty of water now in the reservoir, and that the indications are that the river is raising some. There seems to be no danger now of another shortage unless no rain is had for a long time.

This was Mrs. Pierce's third operation.

Meeting of Farmers

In the court house

Saturday, Sept. 20, at 2 p. m.

For the purpose of discussing plans for a co-operative creamery. Come whether interested or not.

"BETTER POULTRY" GOSPEL.

Films and Practical Talks Make Success of First Field Meeting in Missouri.

The Missouri State Poultry Board, under the direction of Secretary T. E. Quisenberry, recently has held a series of poultry field meetings throughout the state. The first meeting, held at Pacific, in co-operation with the Pacific Commercial club, was attended by more than 2,000 poultry raisers.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by a moving picture reproduction of the ideal method of gathering eggs, handling them for the incubator, the care during hatching period and the care of a growing flock and the results.

Director Quisenberry of the State Experiment Station addressed the large audience on the extent of the poultry industry of Missouri and pointed out how the poultry and egg crop has been the salvation of the farmer in many instances this year where the drouth has ruined other crops.

Ralph H. Searle, vice-director of the Missouri Experiment Station, spoke of the improvement of the farm egg and declared that, with a little care, the farmer could raise the grade of his eggs, now selling at 12 to 14 cents wholesale, to a fancy price standard.

He stated that if the eggs were gathered twice daily and if roosters were taken from the flock, the eggs would keep fresh longer than under old methods. He showed the importance of having clean nests and of sorting the eggs for size and color. On the topic of "The Farmers' Fool Proof Poultry House," he said:

"Most everyone is satisfied with the poultry house that is on the farm. They feel that almost any house is good enough for poultry to roost in and they do not think of giving the chickens proper care, in the way of quarters, that is given to the pigs, horses, and cows. This is a great mistake for, in proportion to the amount of care extended, the hen will yield more of an income than any other farm animal.

"The main essentials of the poultry house are: fresh air, abundance of sunlight and absolute freedom from draft. This can be accomplished by building the house solid on three sides with a shutter opening in front and a window in the back that can be opened for ventilation in the summer."

George Bouey of Cedardale, Kan., demonstrated the method of caponizing as it is practiced today with success. Twelve birds were caponized and each movement was carefully explained.

Bouey said that cockerels which, if sold as broilers, would only bring 35 to 40 cents, if kept until they were roasters would bring 55 to 60 cents, could be caponized and sold for $1.50 to $1.75 each, at from eight to ten months old.

Then came the pictures accompanying lectures which made clear to all poultry raisers the approved methods of getting good results and the profit that is returned from a little preparation, foresight and care.

The story of the chicken was told, pipping of eggs in the incubator was shown and gradually the chicken emerged from the shell.

The routine of feeding laying hens from early morning until late in the evening was made clear. Detailed manipulation of trap nests was shown as clearly as if the audience was in a mammoth poultry plant. The hens were seen to jump upon the trap and enter the nests; the attendant came and took out the egg, made the record and released the hens.

The faculty of the Missouri Experiment Station has secured a corps of practical specialists in the various lines of poultry culture to assist in the series of similar meetings in various sections of the state. Judging by the interest manifested at the meetings held, the Missouri hen will be better bred, more comfortable and prosperous in the future.

WARNS OF FODDER DANGER.

Missouri State Veterinarian Says Cornstalks Should Be Dried Thoroughly Before Feeding.

Doctor Luckey, state veterinarian, warns stockmen to be careful in feeding fodder to cattle this winter as there is danger of poison in the feed. In a statement he says:

"There is no way to tell definitely whether cornstalk trouble will be widespread, but all those who contemplate pasturing stalk fields and feeding shock fodder should be extremely careful.

"The explanation lies in the fact that when the growth of corn is stunted as it was by the recent drouth, there develops in the stalk some deadly poisons. The action of this poison resembles closely that of prussic acid. Whatever the poison may be it seems volatile and passes finally out of the stalks. Generally the shock fodder is safe to use as soon as it is thoroughly dried and aired, and the trouble seldom occurs in stalkfields after January 1. Horses should be muzzled when corn is being gathered to prevent them from eating any of the corn or fodder. Feed the shock fodder rather lightly at first and postpone its use as long as possible."

TO FORM COMPANY

FARMERS TALKING OF ORGANIZING CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY CO.

WILL MEET SATURDAY

To Discuss Plans—All Farmers Requested to Be Present—A Noted Dairy Authority to Be Here.

There is talk among the farmers of organizing a co-operative creamery company in Maryville, and plans for such a company will be discussed at a meeting to be held in Maryville on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house.

Many of the farmers are in favor of such a company and no doubt a co-operative creamery would be a success, as there is no county as good as Nodaway as a dairy county.

Many places in Iowa have the co-operative creamery, and they are a success. The one to be organized here will be along the plans of the Iowa companies. For one week ending June 19, Garner, Ia., took in $4,300 from a co-operative creamery. Then these companies are paying 7 to 9 cents a pound more for butter fat than the farmers are receiving here.

All of the farmers interested in dairying are requested to attend the meeting. There will be in attendance, a noted dairy authority who will explain the plans of organization.

GUARD AGAINST NEW CORN.

Fattening Animals Quickly Show Ill Results of Unbalanced All-Grain Diet.

New corn will be ready to feed soon. With it comes the danger of overfeeding. Farmers who have old corn and will take the trouble to mix it with the new can feed the new grain to very good advantage because the new is greatly relished by the pigs and it adds to the palatability of the old corn.

It is a mistake to start hogs on new corn alone and all well-informed feeders know that it takes more grain and longer time to make fat hogs from new than from old corn.

Another point: It is believed by many hog raisers that heavy feeding with new corn produces cholera. While this is not likely, it is almost certain to produce disturbance of the digestive organs and prevent that steady laying on of fat which is the aim of all feeders.

We all know that corn is the most fattening feed that can be used, but many of us have not yet learned that constant and heavy feeding of this grain alone produces serious trouble and does not make as good pork as when fed judiciously with other food.

When a hog is stuffed with corn and nothing else, it soon becomes overfatted and its growth stops, simply because it does not get the proper ration to make bone and muscle and the fat is piled on a small, weak frame.

A corn-fat hog is also deficient in rich blood, lacks stamina and is in a poor condition to resist disease. It is all right to crowd pigs from birth to maturity, provided they are crowded with growth as well as fat.

The first two months must be spent in building up a frame work and constitution which will carry a load of fat to be put on during the close of the feeding period.

The wise feeder does not figure so much on the amount of fat he can put in his hogs as he does on how quickly and cheaply he can prepare them for market and how much profit he can make during the feeding period.

The farmer who has 100 acres of corn and no clover pasture or alfalfa is not well provided for hog feeding. The best pork is never produced on corn alone. Clover, alfalfa, wheat, bran, pumpkins and skin milk all are necessary to the proper feeding of hogs from the time they are pigs to the time they are sent to market. If a man has no sensible knowledge of balanced rations, he can, if he is a close observer and possessed of common sense, generally tell when his hogs are making the right kind of growth.

If he observes his hogs becoming husky with rolls of fat, skin pale, showing anemic condition, listless and lacking in snap and vigor, he will know that they are getting too much corn and will change or vary his ration to overcome these unfavorable conditions.

Myers-Billey Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Catholic church Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when Rev. Fr. Willibrord, O. S. B., united in marriage Miss Caroline Myers of this city and Mr. Leo Billey of St. Joseph. They were attended by Miss Rose Myers, sister of the bride, and Mr. Joseph Teson of Clyde.

The bride wore a handsome gown of embroidered chiffon over net with Irish point trimmings. The bridal veil was held in place with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The groom wore a tailored suit of blue serge. The bridesmaid was attired in white marquisette with bands of embroidered net.

Miss Hilda Lahr played the wedding march.

The bride of the daughter of Mrs. Catherine Myers of this city and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Billey of Clyde.

At noon a sumptuous dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, to which only immediate relatives were invited. The happy couple were recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The guests at the wedding beside the members of the Myers family were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Billey, Misses Anna Walter, Lucy and Mary Billey, Miss Carrie Wirth, Mrs. G. W. Hobbs and Mrs. Joseph Ruggle of Clyde, Mr. and Mrs. George Billey of St. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Sturm and Mrs. John Sturm of this city.

Their Forty-Seventh Wedding Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baker, 396 West Second street, are celebrating their forty-seventh wedding anniversary Tuesday, September 16, in the happiest way they know how, and in having all their children with them. Gathered at the dinner table at noon were the following children: Mrs. Ella Wright of Shawnee, Okla.; Mrs. Ida Graves of Stillwater, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Baker and children of Omaha; Mrs. Priscilla Price of Winfield, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Baker of Oskaloosa, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pray and children of Grant City, the host and hostess and their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Claude J. Miller of the First Christian church. The youngest daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Torrance Thackery of Grant City, will join the family circle Tuesday evening, having been held in Darlington all day waiting for a train because they were unable to continue the journey in their car. Mr. and Mrs. Baker are among the best known residents of Nodaway county. Their marriage occurred at the home of Mrs. Baker's father, William Matherly, near Graham, where the bride had lived since she was 2 years old. She came with her parents to this county from near St. Joseph. Mr. Baker came to Nodaway county from his native place, Clay county, Missouri, at the age of 10 years, and this has been his home since, excepting two years spent in Iowa after his marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Baker lived on their farm, two miles west of Barnard, for thirty-six years, moving to Maryville twelve years ago to retire from the irksome toil of the farm. All their children grew to manhood and womanhood and are with them today, excepting a son, who died when 8 years old. Their friends will be glad with them and wish them

GIVE WHITE WAY WHITE-UP.

The Electrical Review and Western Electrician Devotes Three Pages to Maryville System.

In the Electrical Review and Western Electrician, published at Chicago, Ill., is a three page article with pictures and views of the Maryville white way. The article is in their issue of September 13. The paper is the leading paper of its kind in the United States. The following is in part what they say about the white way system here:

Maryville, a Missouri town of some 6,500 inhabitants, was lighted originally by carbon-filament lamps. The new system consists of seventy-four five-lamp standards, or ornamental posts. Four of the lamps on a post are 40-watt units, while the top lamp is of the 100-watt rating. Tungsten lamps in standard diffusing globes are used. The posts, which are of iron, of course, were built by the King Foundry company of St. Joseph, Mo. They are spaced eight to the block, four on either side of the street, which means that they are between ninety and ninety-seven feet apart everywhere. Since any attempt to stagger the posts would have made it inconvenient to place a post on every street corner, the plan of placing them exactly opposite each other on opposite sides of the street was adopted. The arrangement adopted gives a remarkably uniform illumination over the entire street and sidewalk surface.

The lamps are of the multiple, or constant voltage, type; and the four bottom lamps on any post are connected on other multiple circuits. These latter lamps burn all night every night, but the four bottom lamps on all the posts are turned out at 11 o'clock each night.

In Maryville the electrical distribution system is an alternating current system. The all-night lamps referred to above are connected on one of the two transformers employed to take care of the downtown street lighting, while the rest of the lamps are connected on the other transformer. A sort of three-wire circuit, or rather two circuits using one wire in common, is the scheme of wiring employed. The control switches are in the primary circuits of the transformers. It will be noted that by opening the primary circuit of transformers No. 1 the four bottom lamps may be extinguished, while the top lamp is similarly controlled by means of the switch on the primary side of transformer No. 2. These switches are located in the central station that supplies the lighting current.

It is hardly necessary to point out that in addition to the gain in economy effected by the foregoing arrangement, it insures extra security against any portion of any street ever being left in temporary darkness. In case something should happen to put one of the circuits out of commission for a time, the other can be used to furnish at least light enough for minimum requirements while repairs are being made.

In the installation under consideration all the circuits are run underground. The safety steel taped cable, manufactured by the Safety Insulated

Wire and Cable company, whose factory is at Bayonne, N. J., was used throughout the job. This is a cable designed to be laid in the ground directly, without the use of any conduit or other raceway. In the Maryville job the cable was laid under the brick paving along the edge of the street. When paving bricks enough had been removed to make a channel sufficiently wide, a narrow channel for the cable was cut in the concrete foundation on which the bricks had been laid, and after the cable was in place the channel was slushed with cement and the bricks replaced. Three-wire cable was employed. The foundation was not broken through except where the cable was carried under the curb and into the tile in the bottom of the lamp post.

Power for the lighting system described above is supplied by the Maryville Electric Light and Power company, of which C. C. Hellmers is the manager. The average cost of the system complete, with lamps installed and ready for operation was $65 per pole.

The Maryville Commercial club raised the money for the installation of the system by means of subscriptions from merchants and property owners. The city pays for the current used. It has a contract with the central station just mentioned to supply power at the rate of $30 per pole per year.

Center suspension is employed here, the lamps being hung at every intersection of two streets in the denser districts, and one at every other intersection elsewhere. The lamps are equipped with a standard type of radial reflector.

TWO MORE ARRESTS MADE.

Dentist Held on Technical Charge of Counterfeiting.

HIS HOUSEKEEPER IN CUSTODY

Bertha Zeck Detained as Material Witness in Connection With Girl's Murder—Plate From Which Spurious Money Struck in Schmidt's Room.

New York, Sept. 16.—Police Inspector Faurot, who on Sunday arrested Father Hans Schmidt, who later confessed to having murdered Anna Ammuller and cut up her body and cast it piece by piece into the Hudson river, early this morning arrived at police headquarters having in custody Dr. A. E. Muret, a dentist, of 101 St. Nicholas avenue, and his housekeeper, Bertha Zeck.

Dr. Muret is being held on a technical charge of counterfeiting and the woman as a material witness.

It is alleged that under the name of George Miller, Muret hired an apartment in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, and that in this apartment were found plates and presses and portions of partially destroyed proofs of $20 gold certificates.

Plate in Schmidt's Room.

The detectives allege that they also found in Father Schmidt's room at St. Joseph's rectory a plate from which counterfeit money had been struck.

Dr. Muret was arrested at his home, which is in the vicinity of St. Joseph's church. The dentist seemed unconcerned when he was taken into custody.

Dr. Muret is thirty-one years old. He was born in Chicago, but went to Europe as a boy and studied in the public schools of Berlin. He graduated from a dental college there in 1902 and came to New York in the latter year.

A Frequent Visitor.

The police say that Father Schmidt was often seen in the apartments in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street with Dr. Muret. The agent of the flat also is said to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment with Father Schmidt.

Inspector Faurot said he wanted it understood that Father Schmidt had made no confession implicating Muret. In the Bradhurst street apartment, where the murder of Anna Ammuller took place, the inspector continued, was found a receipt made out to John Schmidt for the apartment in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street. Detectives were put on the track and found that the premises had been leased by George Miller. They got a good description of "Miller" from the agent and janitor and also learned that Father Schmidt was a visitor to the place. They ran down several other leads and finally decided to arrest Dr. Muret.

Dr. Muret said he first met Schmidt when the priest visited him to have some dental work done and it is alleged by the police that Muret told Inspector Faurot that Schmidt first broached the subject of counterfeiting. "Does Muret or Miller admit knowing the Ammuller girl?" the newspaper men asked Inspector Faurot. "Yes," was the reply.

Priest is Declared Insane. Schmidt is in the observation ward of the Tombs prison, under the watchful eye of Dr. McGuire, the prison physician. Warden Fallon of the Tombs declares the man is insane—one of the most dangerous men ever confined in the prison—and in this view he was upheld by Deputy Commissioner of Corrections Wright. From far off Mainz, Germany, there came to Mr. Joseph J. Mooney, vicar general of the archdiocese of New York, a cablegram from the secretary of the bishop, which said that Schmidt had been declared insane there and was suspended by the bishop.

In his cell Schmidt told and retold the story of his crime and how after the woman was dead he cut up the body with a knife and saw and sank it, portion by portion, in the waters of the Hudson river from the stern of a ferry boat. "The Lord told me to do it" or "St. Elizabeth, my patron, demanded the sacrifice" were the only reasons he gave for his deed, and he invariably added: "God in his own time will clear it up. God and Abraham know why I killed her."

SENATE AGREES TO RESOLUTION

Hundred Thousand to Bring Americans Home From Mexico.

BRISTOW CRITICISES ORDER.

Says Effect of President Wilson's Request Is Bad—Letters Say Lot of Refugees Is Now Much Harder. Alarmist Report Is Denied.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Without reference to a committee, the senate unanimously agreed to the house joint resolution appropriating immediately $100,000 for the relief and transportation of American citizens from Mexico. Senator Bristow (Kan.), however, did not grant his consent to the passage of the resolution until he had criticised the administration policy.

"I have had letters from several friends in Mexico and talked with others who have left Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to get out of Mexico," said Senator Bristow, "and they all say that the warning has been very unfortunate. They tell me that it has made the lot of Americans in Mexico much harder than it was before."

One hundred Americans, fugitives on the Mexican desert between Torreon and Saltillo, harassed by bandit bands, according to unconfirmed reports, were not mentioned in the official dispatches and the state department had no information of them. Officials here were inclined to believe the Americans were in no grave danger.

JEROME'S FOE HELD ON SMUGGLING CHARGE

Constable Arresting Him for Gambling is in Toils.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 16.—The judicial branch of the United States government assumed joint guardianship of Harry Kendall Thaw by virtue of a writ of habeas corpus issued at Concord Saturday. United States Marshal E. P. Nye became one of the Mattewan fugitive's custodians and today Thaw will be taken to Littleton, N. H., and produced before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the United States district court. The writ was directed against Sheriff Drew.

Thaw heard with interest that John Andrews, the Coaticook constable, who arrested Jerome on the charge of gambling, of which he was subsequently cleared, had run afoul of the United States immigration law. Andrews was taken in the custody of George R. Allen, a United States immigration inspector.

Inspector Allen said Andrews was under indictment returned by the federal grand jury at Windsor, Vt., in May of this year. It is charged that the offense was committed in October, 1912, when it is alleged Andrews and others smuggled a pauper woman into the United States from Coaticook to Reading, Mass.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui.

The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Cardui Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper on request.

1914 Cadillac Establishes New Detroit-Omaha Record.

George F. Reim of Omaha recently broke two records in driving his 1914 Cadillac from Detroit to Omaha. Mr. Reim, who was accompanied by four friends, covered the 911 miles between the Fuller hotel in Detroit and the Rome hotel of Omaha in a total elapsed time of 31 hours and 54 minutes. The actual running time was 29:12, stops aggregating 2 hours and 42 minutes having been made, which is not much in excess of the time required to make the run by railroad. By this performance Mr. Reim beat his own time of 36 hours, 57 minutes, which was the record up to the recent performance.

In reality two records were shattered, as the party established a new time for the north transcontinental route from Chicago to Omaha, driving the 500 miles in 19 hours 32 minutes, as against the previous time of 21 hours.

The 1914 Cadillac on its arrival at Omaha was simply washed and put into demonstrating service. The start was made without preliminary tuning up, Mr. Reim simply taking the car out of the factory and beginning the journey.

Mrs. O. A. Petty and Mrs. William Ramey of Arkoe were shopping in Maryville Monday.

ENROLLMENT GOOD

PAID TUITIONS AT THE NORMAL AHEAD OF LAST YEAR.

THE BEST FALL TERM

Indications Are This Will Be the Largest Fall Term—City Schools Start Off Good.

The enrollment of the Normal or the paid tuitions up to 2 o'clock this afternoon was 215, reported Treasurer E. E. Williams at the Real Estate bank. At 11:30 o'clock this morning 190 had paid tuition at that place.

The enrollment at the close of the first day this year is twenty better than it was at the close of the first day a year ago. At the close of the second day last year, it was 155. The attendance last year was 278.

The Normal classes all met today for regular work and all of the teachers and those in the administration office are busily at work with the opening of the institution. The term promises to be the largest fall term held by the school.

The City Schools.

The city schools opening Monday started off with a good enrollment and regular work was taken up. The class program for the high school has been arranged and class work in the school has started. A few more enrolled in the high school on Tuesday.

There is one vacancy in the faculty of the high school. Miss Ruth Russell of Chicago, Ill., wired Tuesday from Guinn, Mich., that since her salary was more with the Guinn school than in Maryville, that she would not accept the position here. Miss Russell was elected by the board last Saturday and word to that effect was sent to her at once.

The school board sent word to Miss Helen Wright of Charleston, Ill., if she would accept the position as science teacher of the high school. The telegram was sent at noon. Miss Wright is a graduate of the Chicago university and also the Eastern Illinois state normal. It is thought probably that she will accept. The vacancy in the high school occurred only a few days ago, when Miss Winifred Ashby resigned the position to teach in Chicago.

GOOD SUPPLY ON HAND.

Plenty of Water in Reservoir, and Indications Are That River is Raising Some.

Manager Lou Denny reported Tuesday that there is plenty of water now in the reservoir, and that the indications are that the river is raising some. There seems to be no danger now of another shortage unless no rain is had for a long time.

Mrs. Pierce Much Better.

Word from Rochester, Minn., today states that Mrs. W. C. Pierce is doing splendidly and is feeling much better. Mrs. Pierce was operated on Saturday morning by the Drs. Mayo. Mr. Pierce and Dr. C. T. Bell accompanied Mrs. Pierce to that place and returned home Monday. Miss Dorothy Pierce went to Rochester on Sunday and will remain with her mother during her stay there. This was Mrs. Pierce's third operation.

Meeting of Farmers

In the court house

Saturday, Sept. 20, at 2 p. m.

For the purpose of discussing plans for a co-operative creamery.

Come whether interested or not.

"BETTER POULTRY" GOSPEL.

Films and Practical Talks Make Success of First Field Meeting in Missouri.

The Missouri State Poultry Board, under the direction of Secretary T. E. Quisenberry, recently has held a series of poultry field meetings throughout the state. The first meeting, held at Pacific, in co-operation with the Pacific Commercial club, was attended by more than 2,000 poultry raisers.

Great enthusiasm was aroused by a moving picture reproduction of the ideal method of gathering eggs, handling them for the incubator, the care during hatching period and the care of a growing flock and the results.

Director Quisenberry of the State Experiment Station addressed the large audience on the extent of the poultry industry of Missouri and pointed out how the poultry and egg crop has been the salvation of the farmer in many instances this year where the drouth has ruined other crops.

Ralph H. Searle, vice-director of the Missouri Experiment Station, spoke on the improvement of the farm egg and declared that, with a little care, the farmer could raise the grade of his eggs, now selling at 12 to 14 cents wholesale, to a fancy price standard.

He stated that if the eggs were gathered twice daily and if roosters were taken from the flock, the eggs would keep fresh longer than under old methods. He showed the importance of having clean nests and of sorting the eggs for size and color. On the topic of "The Farmers' Fool Proof Poultry House," he said:

"Most everyone is satisfied with the poultry house that is on the farm. They feel that almost any house is good enough for poultry to roost in and they do not think of giving the chickens proper care, in the way of quarters, that is given to the pigs, horses, and cows. This is a great mistake for, in proportion to the amount of care extended, the hen will yield more of an income than any other farm animal.

"The main essentials of the poultry house are: fresh air, abundance of sunlight and absolute freedom from draft. This can be accomplished by building the house solid on three sides with a shutter opening in front and a window in the back that can be opened for ventilation in the summer."

George Beouy of Cedardale, Kan., demonstrated the method of caponizing as it is practiced today with success. Twelve birds were caponized and each movement was carefully explained.

Beouy said that cockerels which, if sold as broilers, would only bring 35 to 40 cents, if kept until they were roasters would bring 55 to 60 cents, could be caponized and sold for $1.50 to $1.75 each, at from eight to ten months old.

Then came the pictures accompanying lectures which made clear to all poultry raisers the approved methods of getting good results and the profit that is returned from a little preparation, foresight and care.

The story of the chicken was told, pipping of eggs in the incubator was shown and gradually the chicken emerged from the shell.

The routine of feeding laying hens from early morning until late in the evening was made clear. Detailed manipulation of trap nests was shown as clearly as if the audience was in a mammoth poultry plant. The hens were seen to jump upon the trap and enter the nests; the attendant came and took out the egg, made the record and released the hens.

The faculty of the Missouri Experiment Station has secured a corps of practical specialists in the various lines of poultry culture to assist in the series of similar meetings in various sections of the state. Judging by the interest manifested at the meetings held, the Missouri hen will be better bred, more comfortable and prosperous in the future.

WARNS OF FODDER DANGER.

Missouri State Veterinarian Says Cornstalks Should Be Dried Thoroughly Before Feeding.

Doctor Luckey, state veterinarian, warns stockmen to be careful in feeding fodder to cattle this winter as there is danger of poison in the feed. In a statement he says:

"There is no way to tell definitely whether cornstalk trouble will be widespread, but all those who contemplate pasturing stalk fields and feeding shock fodder should be extremely careful.

"The explanation lies in the fact that when the growth of corn is stunted as it was by the recent drouth, there develops in the stalk some deadly poisons. The action of this poison resembles closely that of prussic acid. Whatever the poison may be it seems volatile and passes finally out of the stalks. Generally the shock fodder is safe to use as soon as it is thoroughly dried and aired, and the trouble seldom occurs in stalkfields after January 1. Horses should be muzzled when corn is being gathered to prevent them from eating any of the corn or fodder. Feed the shock fodder rather lightly at first and postpone its use as long as possible."

TO FORM COMPANY

FARMERS TALKING OF ORGANIZING CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY CO.

WILL MEET SATURDAY

To Discuss Plans—All Farmers Requested to Be Present—A Noted Dairy Authority to Be Here.

There is talk among the farmers of organizing a co-operative creamery company in Maryville, and plans for such a company will be discussed at a meeting to be held in Maryville on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the court house.

Many of the farmers are in favor of such a company and no doubt a co-operative creamery would be a success, as there is no county as good as Nodaway as a dairy county.

Many places in Iowa have the co-operative creamery, and they are a success. The one to be organized here will be along the plans of the Iowa companies. For one week ending June 19, Garner, Ia., took in $4,300 from a co-operative creamery. Then these companies are paying 7 to 9 cents a pound more for butter fat than the farmers are receiving here.

All of the farmers interested in dairying are requested to attend the meeting. There will be in attendance, a noted dairy authority who will explain the plans of organization.

GUARD AGAINST NEW CORN.

Fattening Animals Quickly Show Ill Results of Unbalanced All-Grain Diet.

New corn will be ready to feed soon. With it comes the danger of overfeeding. Farmers who have old corn and will take the trouble to mix it with the new can feed the new grain to very good advantage because the new is greatly relished by the pigs and it adds to the palatability of the old corn.

It is a mistake to start hogs on new corn alone and all well-informed feeders know that it takes more grain and longer time to make fat hogs from new than from old corn.

Another point: It is believed by many hog raisers that heavy feeding with new corn produces cholera. While this is not likely, it is almost certain to produce disturbance of the digestive organs and prevent that steady laying on of fat which is the aim of all feeders.

We all know that corn is the most fattening feed that can be used, but many of us have not yet learned that constant and heavy feeding of this grain alone produces serious trouble and does not make as good pork as when fed judiciously with other food.

When a hog is stuffed with corn and nothing else, it soon becomes overfatted and its growth stops, simply because it does not get the proper ration to make bone and muscle and the fat is piled on a small, weak frame.

A corn-fat hog is also deficient in rich blood, lacks stamina and is in a poor condition to resist disease. It is all right to crowd pigs from birth to maturity, provided they are crowded with growth as well as fat.

The first two months must be spent in building up a frame work and constitution which will carry a load of fat to be put on during the close of the feeding period.

The wise feeder does not figure so much on the amount of fat he can put on his hogs as he does on how quickly and cheaply he can prepare them for market and how much profit he can make during the feeding period.

The farmer who has 100 acres of corn and no clover pasture or alfalfa is not well provided for hog feeding. The best pork is never produced on corn alone. Clover, alfalfa, wheat, bran, pumpkins and skim milk all are necessary to the proper feeding of hogs from the time they are pigs to the time they are sent to market. If a man has no sensible knowledge of balanced rations, he can, if he is a close observer and possessed of common sense, generally tell when his hogs are making the right kind of growth.

If he observes his hogs becoming lumpy with rolls of fat, skin pale, showing anemic condition, listless and lacking in snap and vigor, he will know that they are getting too much corn and will change or vary his ration to overcome these unfavorable conditions.

Myers-Billey Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Catholic church Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when Rev. Fr. Willbrod, O. S. B., united in marriage Miss Caroline Myers of this city and Mr. Leo Billey of St. Joseph. They were attended by Miss Rose Myers, sister of the bride, and Mr. Joseph Tesson of Clyde.

The bride wore a handsome gown of embroidered chiffon over net with Irish point trimmings. The bridal veil was held in place with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The groom wore a tailored suit of blue serge. The bridesmaid was attired in white marquisette with bands of embroidered net.

Miss Hilda Lahr played the wedding march.

The bride of the daughter of Mrs. Catherine Myers of this city and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Billey of Clyde.

At noon a sumptuous dinner was served at the home of the bride's mother, to which only immediate relatives were invited. The happy couple were recipients of many handsome and useful presents.

The guests at the wedding beside the members of the Myers family were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Billey, Misses Anna Walter, Lucy and Mary Billey, Miss Garrie Wirth, Mrs. G. W. Their Forty-Seventh Wedding Day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baker, 306 West Second street, are celebrating their forty-seventh wedding anniversary Tuesday, September 16, in the happiest way they know how, and in having all their children with them. Gathered at the dinner table at noon were the following children: Mrs. Ella Wright of Shawnee, Okla.; Mrs. Ida Graves of Stillwater, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Baker and children of Omaha; Mrs. Priscilla Price of Winfield, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Baker of Oskaloosa, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pray and children of Grant City, the host and hostess and their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. Claude J. Miller of the First Christian church. The youngest daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Torrance Thackery of Grant City, will join the family circle Tuesday evening, having been held in Darlington all day waiting for a train because they were unable to continue the journey in their car. Mr. and Mrs. Baker are among the best known residents of Nodaway county. Their marriage occurred at the home of Mrs. Baker's father, William Matherly, near Graham, where the bride had lived since she was 2 years old. She came with her parents to this county from near St. Joseph. Mr. Baker came to Nodaway county from his native place, Clay county, Missouri, at the age of 10 years, and this has been his home since, excepting two years spent in town after his marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Baker lived on their farm, two miles west of Barnard, for thirty-six years, moving to Maryville twelve years ago to retire from the irksome toil of the farm. All their children grew to manhood and womanhood and are with them today, excepting a son, who died when 8 years old. Their friends will be glad with them and wish them

GIVE WHITE WAY WRITE-UP.

The Electrical Review and Western Electrician Devotes Three Pages to Maryville System.

In the Electrical Review and Western Electrician, published at Chicago, Ill., is a three page article with pictures and views of the Maryville white way. The article is in their issue of September 13. The paper is the leading paper of its kind in the United States. The following is in part what they say about the white way system here:

Maryville, a Missouri town of some 6,500 inhabitants, was lighted originally by carbon-filament lamps. The new system consists of seventy-four five-lamp standards, or ornamental posts. Four of the lamps on a post are 40-watt units, while the top lamp is of the 100-watt rating. Tungsten lamps in standard diffusing globes are used. The posts, which are of iron, of course, were built by the King Foundry company of St. Joseph, Mo. They are spaced eight to the block, four on either side of the street, which means that they are between ninety and ninety-seven feet apart everywhere. Since any attempt to stagger the posts would have made it inconvenient to place a post on every street corner, the plan of placing them exactly opposite each other on opposite sides of the street was adopted. The arrangement adopted gives a remarkably uniform illumination over the entire street and sidewalk surface.

The lamps are of the multiple, or constant voltage, type; and the four bottom lamps on any post are connected on other multiple circuits. These latter lamps burn all night every night, but the four bottom lamps on all the posts are turned out at 11 o'clock each night.

In Maryville the electrical distribution system is an alternating current system. The all-night lamps referred to above are connected on one of the two transformers employed to take care of the downtown street lighting, while the rest of the lamps are connected on the other transformer. A sort of three-wire circuit, or rather two circuits using one wire in common, is the scheme of wiring employed. The control switches are in the primary circuits of the transformers. It will be noted that by opening the primary circuit of transformers No. 1 the four bottom lamps may be extinguished, while the top lamp is similarly controlled by means of the switch on the primary side of transformer No. 2. These switches are located in the central station that supplies the lighting current.

It is hardly necessary to point out that in addition to the gain in economy effected by the foregoing arrangement, it insures extra security against any portion of any street ever being left in temporary darkness. In case something should happen to put one of the circuits out of commission for a time, the other can be used to furnish at least light enough for minimum requirements while repairs are being made.

In the installation under consideration all the circuits are run underground. The safety steel taped cable, manufactured by the Safety Insulated

Wire and Cable company, whose factory is at Bayonne, N. J., was used throughout the job. This is a cable designed to be laid in the ground directly, without the use of any conduit or other raceway. In the Maryville job the cable was laid under the brick paving along the edge of the street. When paving bricks enough had been removed to make a channel sufficiently wide, a narrow channel for the cable was cut in the concrete foundation on which the bricks had been laid, and after the cable was in place the channel was slushed with cement and the bricks replaced. Three-wire cable was employed. The foundation was not broken through except where the cable was carried under the curb and into the tile in the bottom of the lamp post.

Power for the lighting system described above is supplied by the Maryville Electric Light and Power company, of which C. C. Hellmers is the manager. The average cost of the system complete, with lamps installed and ready for operation was $65 per pole. The Maryville Commercial club raised the money for the installation of the system by means of subscriptions from merchants and property owners. The city pays for the current used. It has a contract with the central station just mentioned to supply power at the rate of $30 per pole per year.

Center suspension is employed here, the lamps being hung at every intersection of two streets in the denser districts, and one at every other intersection elsewhere. The lamps are equipped with a standard type of radial reflector.

TWO MORE ARRESTS MADE

Dentist Held on Technical Charge of Counterfeiting.

HIS HOUSEKEEPER IN CUSTODY

Bertha Zeck Detained as Material Witness in Connection With Girl's Murder—Plate From Which Spurious Money Struck in Schmidt's Room.

New York, Sept. 16.—Police Inspector Faurot, who on Sunday arrested Father Hans Schmidt, who later confessed to having murdered Anna Ammuller and cut up her body and cast it piece by piece into the Hudson river, early this morning arrived at police headquarters having in custody Dr. A. E. Muret, a dentist, of 101 St. Nicholas avenue, and his housekeeper, Bertha Zeck.

Dr. Muret is being held on a technical charge of counterfeiting and the woman as a material witness.

It is alleged that under the name of George Miller, Muret hired an apartment in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, and that in this apartment were found plates and presses and portions of partially destroyed proofs of $20 gold certificates.

Plate in Schmidt's Room.

The detectives allege that they also found in Father Schmidt's room at St. Joseph's rectory a plate from which counterfeit money had been struck.

Dr. Muret was arrested at his home, which is in the vicinity of St. Joseph's church. The dentist seemed unconcerned when he was taken into custody.

Dr. Muret is thirty-one years old. He was born in Chicago, but went to Europe as a boy and studied in the public schools of Berlin. He graduated from a dental college there in 1902 and came to New York in the latter year.

A Frequent Visitor.

The police say that Father Schmidt was often seen in the apartments in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street with Dr. Muret. The agent of the flat also is said to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment with Father Schmidt.

Inspector Faurot said he wanted it understood that Father Schmidt had made no confession implicating Muret. In the Bradhurst street apartment, where the murder of Anna Ammuller took place, the inspector continued, was found a receipt made out to John Schmidt for the apartment in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street. Detectives were put on the track and found that the premises had been leased by George Miller. They got a good description of "Miller" from the agent and janitor and also learned that Father Schmidt was a visitor to the place. They ran down several other leads and finally decided to arrest Dr. Muret.

Dr. Muret said he first met Schmidt when the priest visited him to have some dental work done and it is alleged by the police that Muret told Inspector Faurot that Schmidt first broached the subject of counterfeiting. "Does Muret or Miller admit knowing the Ammuller girl?" the newspaper man asked Inspector Faurot.

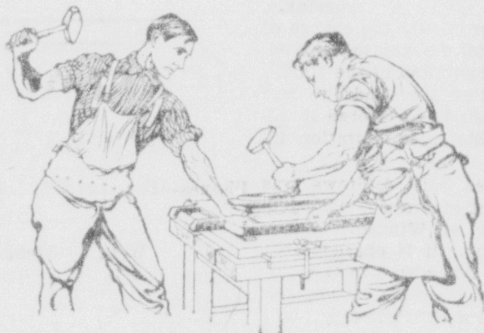

"Yes," was the reply.

Priest Is Declared Insane.

Schmidt is in the observation ward of the Tombs prison, under the watchful eye of Dr. McGuire, the prison physician. Warden Fallon of the Tombs declares the man is insane—one of the most dangerous men ever confined in the prison—and in this view he was upheld by Deputy Commissioner of Corrections Wright.

SENATE AGREES TO RESOLUTION

Hundred Thousand to Bring Americans Home From Mexico.

BRISTOW CRITICISES ORDER.

Says Effect of President Wilson's Request Is Bad—Letters Say Lot of Refugees Is Now Much Harder. Alarmist Report Is Denied.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Without reference to a committee, the senate unanimously agreed to the house joint resolution appropriating immediately $100,000 for the relief and transportation of American citizens from Mexico. Senator Bristow (Kan.), however, did not grant his consent to the passage of the resolution until he had criticized the administration policy.

"I have had letters from several friends in Mexico and talked with others who have left Mexico since the president issued his warning for Americans to get out of Mexico," said Senator Bristow, "and they all say that the warning has been very unfortunate. They tell me that it has made the lot of Americans in Mexico much harder than it was before."

One hundred Americans, fugitives on the Mexican desert between Torreon and Saltillo, harassed by bandit bands, according to unconfirmed reports, were not mentioned in the official dispatches and the state department had no information of them. Officials here were inclined to believe the Americans were in no grave danger.

Constable Arresting Him for Gambling is in Toils.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 16.—The judicial branch of the United States government assumed joint guardianship of Harry Kendall Thaw by virtue of a writ of habeas corpus issued at Concord Saturday. United States Marshal E. P. Nute became one of the Matthea family's custodians and today Thaw will be taken to Littleton, N. H., and produced before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the United States district court. The writ was directed against Sheriff Drew.

Thaw heard with interest that John Andrews, the Coaticook constable, who arrested Jerome on the charge of gambling, of which he was subsequently cleared, had run afoul of the United States immigration law. Andrews was taken in the custody of George R. Allen, a United States immigration inspector.

Inspector Allen said Andrews was under indictment returned by the federal grand jury at Windsor, Vt., in May of this year. It is charged that the offense was committed in October, 1912, when it is alleged Andrews and others smuggled a pauper woman into the United States from Coaticook to Reading, Mass.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

1914 Cadillac Establishes New Detroit-Omaha Record.

George F. Reim of Omaha recently broke two records in driving his 1914 Cadillac from Detroit to Omaha. Mr. Reim, who was accompanied by four friends, covered the 911 miles between the Tullier hotel in Detroit and the Rome hotel of Omaha in a total elapsed time of 31 hours and 54 minutes. The actual running time was 29:12, stops aggregating 2 hours and 42 minutes having been made, which is not much in excess of the time required to make the run by railroad. By this performance Mr. Reim beat his own time of 36 hours, 57 minutes, which was the record up to the recent performance.

In reality two records were shattered, as the party established a new time for the north transcontinental route from Chicago to Omaha, driving the 500 miles in 19 hours 32 minutes, as against the previous time of 21 hours.

The 1914 Cadillac on its arrival at Omaha was simply washed and put into demonstrating service. The start was made without preliminary tuning up, Mr. Reim simply taking the car out of the factory and beginning the journey.

Mrs. O. A. Petty and Mrs. William Ramsey of Arkoe were shopping in Maryville Monday.
